Slough Central (Queensmere Outline Planning Application)

Post-submission engagement overview

This document summarises the community and stakeholder engagement activities undertaken following the submission of the outline planning application for the Queensmere Shopping Centre (P/19689/000).

It is to be read in conjunction with the Statement of Community Involvement (prepared by Kanda Consulting on behalf of the Applicant) submitted as part of the outline planning application. This provided a summary of pre-application consultation activities; feedback received; and responses to key themes of feedback.

Updates on the proposals and on community engagement activities have been provided on an ongoing basis via the dedicated Slough Central social media channels (on Twitter and Facebook) in addition to the consultation inbox and landline remaining open for enquiries throughout the post-submission period.

The table below sets out key activities undertaken since the submission of the outline planning application in October 2021.

Next steps

The Applicant is committed to engagement with residents, stakeholders and interested parties throughout the planning process and will continue to organise meetings as required/requested over the coming months.

Members of the Applicant's team will also continue to attend local community events over the coming months.

The Applicant is preparing a newsletter update for councillors and the wider community providing a high-level summary of engagement and community investment activities to date.

Relevant updates on the progress of the outline planning application will also be shared with the project mailing list via e-newsletter, promoted via social media channels and included on the Slough Central project website.
